North Texas Ques

Brother Newborn (center) Omega Man of the Year

Dallas, TX. On November 11, 2006 the North Texas Ques held its annual Achievement Week Banquet. The event was held in the beautiful setting of the Adam's Mark Hotel in downtown Dallas, site of the Ninth District's 69th annual meeting. Brothers and their significant others were challenged by a panel of well renowned brothers including keynote speaker, Bro. Royce West-Texas State Senator, who educated and inspired all that attended. His eloquent delivery of economic empowerment gave the audience a blue print of how to position our communities, our cities, and our race for economic prosperity through state programs, hard work, and service.

The Achievement Week Banquet is a time to reward that hard work and service by acknowledging individuals, businesses, and most of all, the brothers on the front line-working hard for Omega. Brothers that earned awards exemplify all of the cardinal principles the most honorable founders set forth for the greatest fraternity. No one exemplify these principles more than Omicron Gamma Gamma's own Basileus, Brother Van Newborn. Bro. Newborn was awarded OGG's Omega Man of the year for the second consecutive year. His dedication and leadership is infectious to all that know him.

Bro. Newborn currently serves as the Ninth District's Webmaster, Technology Chairmen, and as the North Texas Intake Vice-chair. OGG has prospered in members and also financially under his leadership and guidance. The brothers of OGG are proud to have such a dynamic brother as Basileus.

Theta Alpha Almost Triples ADA Goal

Dallas, TX. Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. has committed to raise $50,000 on behalf of the American Diabetes Association. Theta Alpha Chapter went above and beyond almost tripling its goal of $500 with over $1400 raised.

Saturday November 5, 2005, Theta Alpha Chapter of Omega Psi Phi took part in the 2005 America's Walk for Diabetes in Dallas Texas. This is the major fundraising effort for the American Diabetes Association and it's chief means of raising awareness about Type 1 and Type 2 Diabetes.

Fifteen brothers along with Quettes walked in the 5 Kilometer Walk/Trot/Run. Omega Psi Phi was "True to Form" being the only Fraternity represented at the walk. Many persons were taking part in this effort because either they or someone dear to them suffers from Diabetes. " Bro. Terry Forest shared, "It is my honor and duty to serve and support the chapter's initiative and programs."

Currently 3 million African American have diabetes. African American's are also twice as likely to have Diabetes as Non-Hispanic Whites. Researchers trace much of this trend to Unhealthy lifestyle choices that prevail in the African American Community. It is a cardinal principle of Omega Psi Phi to provide Uplift and this is a superb opportunity to Uplift the Black community.

Chapter Reporter Detrick DeBurr

OGG on the Second Cardinal Principle

On August 19, 2005 Omicron Gamma Gamma awarded five students with scholarship funds at Arlington's Boys and Girls Club. The chapter places a very high priority on scholarship and strongly promotes this principle through out the area. The example resonates from the chapter as a large percent of its members has or is participating in postgraduate studies.

Lloyd Douglas of North Crowley High School won the merit scholarship given by the chapter.

Achievement Week Hits Lawton

Psi Upsilon Officers 2005-2006

Lawton, OK. The Brothers of Psi Upsilon focused on reclamation during its 2005 Achievement Week Activities. Fueled by a challenge from Brother John D. Veal, Jr., Basileus, to bring inactive brothers back into the fold, the Psi Upsilon Chapter participated in events that were designed to reach those brothers in the area who are not active.

The week's activities started with the Brothers attending the Southwest Oklahoma Military Appreciation Bowl, featuring Langston University, the only HBCU in Oklahoma. On Sunday, the brothers attend church services at Union Baptist Church. Monday night gave us Monday Night Football where the Brothers ate, enjoyed a good football game and had a night of fellowship with each other. The fraternity house was in need of work, so on Tuesday night the Brothers spent the evening doing routine maintenance around the house. The Brothers celebrated Founders night on Thursday, with the oldest and youngest brother cutting the cake. This also gave us an opportunity to reflect on who we are and why we do what we do. The City of Lawton had a chance to "Party With the Bruhs" at the Fall Jamz. This was an opportunity for the chapter to raise funds to assist with the various projects.

Brother Chick Ellis was the Keynote speaker at the Achievement Week Banquet. While focusing on the fraternity's theme, Brother Ellis brought into focus the rich tradition of the Psi Upsilon Chapter and the chapter's positive impact on the growth of the Lawton-Fort Sill Community. The newly elected officers were also sworn in at the banquet: Brother Kenneth J. Evans, Basileus, Brother Carl Small, Vice-Basileus, Brother John Veal, Keeper of Records and Seal, Brother Corey Givens, Keeper of Peace and Brother Chick Ellis, Chaplain. The Brothers concluded Achievement Week by attending church services at Bethlehem Baptist Church, where Brother John Faison presented the message.

Uplifting in an “OWT” Manner

Norman, Oklahoma. The Pi Delta chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. at the University of Oklahoma has always been famous for hosting one of the biggest parties in Oklahoma as a closure to Achievement Week. This was again the case for this year’s party; entitled Boot Nasty VIII, a party that many Oklahomans attend or are aware of. What many Oklahomans are not aware of and what the Pi Delta brothers hold so dear to our hearts are the scholarship and uplifting events that we hosted during Achievement Week 2005.

For the past couple of years, the chapter has hosted, in conjunction with a private clinic in Norman, Oklahoma, HIV screening for students and faculty at the university. This year, a vision from chapter Brother Jason Wycoff advised the chapter on expanding this program. Brother Carrington Scott contacted the local Norman Department of Human Services to inform them of our HIV Screening. Brother Scott proposed to them how we can expand this event to not only the University of Oklahoma community, but to the entire local community to fight HIV and enlighten people about this disease. DHS has agreed to cooperate with the chapter and to make this an annual program.

Pi Delta also hosted our 15th annual Que-bowl, a bowling tournament amongst Greek organizations, faculties and other students. This event is a fundraiser raising money to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association and the United Negro College Fund. Other events included during this week were the Charles R. Drew Blood Drive (total of 21 people donated blood), and movie night with the “bruhs”. We also attended three different inner-city high schools during this week where we offered our chapter’s scholarship opportunity and principals were enthusiastic in wanting us to put on a small show so the Pi Delta brothers were also “owt” while we uplifted. Lastly, we hosted a panel in conjunction with Student African American Brotherhood discussing the issue of unprotected sex and its consequences.

Lewis Selected as Omega Man of the Year

Fraternity Brother Doctor Derek Lewis won the Pi Omicron Chapter, Omega Man of The Year Award for the second straight year. After the tragic death of Brother Jimmy Morris in December 2004, Doctor Lewis became Basileus of Pi Omicron. He was elected to serve a full term as Basileus in November 2005. Brother Lewis became a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Beta Delta Chapter, in the spring of 1976.

Derek Lewis was one of ten children born in Hughes, a small town in Eastern Arkansas. He takes pride in growing up in this rural community. Derek was a member of the Student Council, band and track team at Hughes High School. He attended The University of Central Arkansas in Conway, where he received a Bachelor of Science Degree in biology and a Master of Science Degree in microbiology. In 1984, he received his Doctor of Medicine from the University of Arkansas Medical School. Doctor Lewis owns and operates two medical clinics in the Greater Little Rock Metropolitan area. He served as Chief of Family Practice as well as Family Practice Controls Committee member for area hospitals. He has conducted several clinical trials with pharmaceutical companies such as Pfizer, Norvartis, Astrazeneca, Glaxo Smith Kline, Tap, Bristol Myers Squibb, Eli Lilly and Sankyo-Pharma.

He founded The Derek Lewis Foundation in 1988. Annually, this foundation financially supports summer programs for youth between the ages of 13 and 16 by teaching them job interviewing skills, financial management skills, time management and business ethics as it pertains to proper dress, job responsibility and accountability. Additionally, The Derek Lewis Foundation assists intercity sports programs, Little Rock Boys and Girls Clubs and the University of Central Arkansas African Alumni Association Scholarship Fund, special projects for Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Pi Omicron Chapter of Little Rock, and various charities.

He is a member Little Rock Chamber of Commerce, American Academy of Family Physicians, Arkansas Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association and Arkansas Medical Society. Also, he is a board member of the Little Rock Chapter of Boys and Girls Club, and past President of the University of Central Arkansas Alumni Association.

Chapters Join Together in Mentoring Program

The brothers of Mu Beta (University of Texas at Arlington) and Omicron Gamma Gamma (Arlington, Texas) have established a Mentoring Program with the Boys and Girls Club of Arlington, Texas. The age range of the young boys is from eight to fourteen years old. The program's mission is to reach back into the minority community and lift as we climb. The program was initially conceived with the purpose of mentoring minority boys local to the Arlington area. However, all races are encouraged to participate as the brothers' positive influence can impact the life of any young male in today's society.

The program is held on a recurring basis throughout the year. As a part of the program, the chapters also conduct special programs during the week to reinforce the bonds made during the weekend sessions. The program focuses on a number of developmental areas including academic tutoring, building relationships with parents, and other critical areas. These sessions allow brothers to go beyond the traditional mentor role and become more involved role models. Bianca Wilson, liaison for the Boys and Girl Club, stated "she had been waiting for the Omegas to start a mentoring program because she could always remember an Omega presence in the community when she was growing up."

Operation Smoke Alarm

On March 19th 2005, the Brothers of Omicron Gamma Gamma participated in the annual "Operation Smoke Alarm" project in Fort Worth, Texas. Since project inception, there has been strong participation at this life saving event which is covered and televised by several local news stations. This was the fourth straight year that the brothers participated in the project. The project was developed to proactively combat the rising death tolls associated with preventable fires. The Fort Worth Fire Department and the American Red Cross are the sponsors of the event and initially reached out to the Brothers of OGG due its strong community service presence in the Mid-Cities area.

With Omicron Gamma Gamma's help, approximately 479 smoke alarms and 396 batteries were installed in the South East side of Fort Worth. This area has been considered a high-risk area for years and due to "Operation Smoke Alarm" fires and fire related deaths have substantially decreased. The Fort Worth Fire Department commended the Brothers of OGG for once again rising to the occasion and battling social problems that plague the Mid-Cities area.

Theta Alpha Represented Well at Achievement Week

Dallas, Texas. On Friday November 19, 2005, The Dallas Metroplex Ques ended their Achievement Week activities with a festive night of fellowship, recognition and reminiscing. The Metroplex Ques organization includes the Dallas area chapters of Omega Psi Phi. According to Metroplex Ques President Terry Forest, who was also named Theta Alpha Chapter's Omega Man of the Year, "This year's banquet was a huge success".

The evening's festivities, held at the Dallas Adams Mark Hotel, began with a fellowship reception. At the reception Brothers reflected on the accomplishments of the year and discussed future plans for the fraternity. Afterwards Brothers moved into the banquet hall to begin the 2005 Awards Banquet. Each chapter presented awards to citizens and members who have gone above and beyond the call of duty.

The highlight of the evening was a very inspirational message delivered by Texas State Senator Bro. Royce West. Brother West who is a current member of Theta Alpha and a charter member of Mu Beta challenged the men of Omega to take their rightful place in the community. Taking the theme for the evening "Can Economic Empowerment Lead to Social and Political Change?", he shared that America and Texas in particular are changing. It is now time for Omega Men to assume leadership roles in the community.

The Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Brother Newy Scruggs. Bro. Scruggs is the Sports Director for Channel 5 in Dallas. He is also a Theta Alpha member. Bro. Scruggs, teary eyed, shared his deep appreciation for Omega Psi Phi. "If it wasn't for Omega I probably would not be where I am today", said Scruggs. "It, Omega, helped me get through college.

Attendance for the night was well over 230 brothers, wives, families, and friends of Omega.

Brothers capped off the night with a dance immediately after the banquet. This banquet was a fitting climax to the week's activities.

Words from a concerned Brother

We are in a position to see, in our lifetime, a Grand Basileus forged from among our very own ranks. The Ninth District has produced extraordinary talent over the years and that talent has been rewarded within our ranks over and over again.

We must work together to realize this rare opportunity for the Ninth District. It will take courage, sacrifice and perseverance. There can be no room for distrust, petty differences or green-eyed monster disease.

Other Districts in the Fraternity are watching us closely. Will we be seen by them as men who are focused, united and consumed with purpose? Or will we be seen as men who engage in self-destructive in-house political warfare.

When the smoke clears we will be seen as men, for true. But what kind of men will they see? It is our choice and ours alone what they will see.

The rest of the Fraternity is well aware of the Ninth District's declaration that her men are poisoning themselves to lead the Fraternity. Can they trust us? Will they trust us? Should they trust us?

What will they say of us...we men of the Ninth District? Will they say our hearts were smitten with the fires of the promise of leadership? Or will they speak of men who chose to feed their souls with a blind self-destructive need to satisfy their own personal agendas.

We are men and we will be led by men. This is not negotiable. The poisons of the past have drained the life out of many friendships that were meant by Heaven to last for a lifetime. Our day has come. Let us be men as God meant us to be and not foolishly embrace the right as rain and undeniably tragic fate of the egomaniac.

We will cast our viles of poison into the voids of hell where they belong. We will be men and we will show the purple and gold world that we are men. We will support our man who is prepared to lead. Our man is poised to be the one. Lift your hearts and speak not of what might be but shout about what will be.

For years brothers in the 9th District have worked hard for Omega on the Local, District and International levels of Omega. A moment in time has now come to us here in the Ninth District, and in Little Rock we will have an opportunity to make a major difference. This is no anomaly nor is it a fluke or mere chance. This is our destiny.

The Brother in question.
